Claims 1, 9, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For clarity and/or definiteness, it appears that –the severed web to—should be inserted after “supplying” (claim 1, line 2 from bottom, similarly in claims 9, 14, 15)

All claims should be revised carefully to correct all other deficiencies similar to the ones noted above.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-6 and 8-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Butterworth et al (US 5226611) in view of Perini (US 4487377).

Butterworth et al discloses an apparatus having substantially all the claimed features including suctions means 78 and 80, interference device/severing roll 34, channel 32, and “transfer pad” which contains suctions means 78 and 80. Air knives and water knives are old and well known in the art and official notice is taken of such; therefore, the alternative use of either of them would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person having ordinary skill in the art based on factors such as preference, design criteria, space optimization, and costs. Servo motors are also old and well known in the art and official notice is also taken of such; therefore, the alternative use of a servo motor to direct the movement of the severing means would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person having ordinary skill in the art based on factors such as preference, design criteria, space optimization, and costs.

Perini discloses another similar apparatus having only one winding station (this is old and well known in the art) and teaches removing the suction force from the web to release the web. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to remove the suction force in the apparatus of Butterworth et al (instead of just reducing it) to more effectively release the web and to configure the apparatus of Butterworth et al for operation on one winding station as shown by Perini, if a second winding station is not desired.

Applicant's arguments filed 6/22/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

As noted above, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to configure the apparatus of Butterworth et al for operation on one winding station as shown by Perini, if a second winding station is not desired.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
